OIL MEN DISAPPOINTED. Promising Well in the Warren Vicinity Turns Out a Gasser.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MONTPELIER, Ind., Dec. 11 .- Oil men here who were confidently expecting that the Mount & Harmon well, on the Pouler's farm, near Warren, would turn out to be a gusher, or at least one of the best strikes ever made in the Indiana field, are doomed to disappointment. Owing to the excellent showing made when the drill had only penetrated the sand a few feet it was naturally looked upon as a splendid find, but from all indications it is practically worthless. The well was shot yesterday and since then it has flowed but little oil. It is generally thought by producers that the well was ruined by the shot, as there have been many instances of the kind. The well is a strong gasser, which is the probable cause of flowing oil when sand was touched. A number of oil men are of the opinion that the well will yet produce oil, but the chances are not favorable. It is not known what the intentions of Mount and Harmon are, as neither of them could be seen to-day. It is understood that they propose to move the rig seventy feet from its present location and drill another hole. Oil men have much faith in the new territory and believe that Messrs. Mount and Harmon will get a good well in the Poulers farm.

T. Z. Cook, of Warren, whose No. 1, on the Karlger farm, is perhaps the best well in that field, will begin his No. 2 on the same lease land next Monday. The location is six hundred feet east of the No. 1. The Rowland Zeigler Oil Company, which has a comfortable block of territory in that neighborhood, has made two locations, one on the John Karigan and another on the adjoining farm south. S. W. Many Words.

FRANKLIN, Ind., Dec. 11.-In a suit for HAWAII'S EX-QUEEN WOULD LIKE TO RECEIVE A PENSION.

> Visit to the United States-Will Also Meet Princess Kaiulani.

> WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.-While no official information has been received as to the purpose of ex-Queen Liliuokalani's visit to this country, her coming at this time occasions much comment in official quarters. She will be met here, it is understood, by Princess Kaiulani, who has been sojourning in Italy, and will come here for this meeting. Minister Hatch, of Hawaii, is now in New York, and Mr. Cooper, the Hawaiian minister of foreign affairs, is en route to San Francisco to take the steamer for Hawaii on the 16th inst. This will bring him into close proximity to the ex-Queen at San Francisco. In the event the the ex-Queen and princess coming to Washington, their visit could not be regarded by the authorities here as official, for the United States has formally recognized the Republic of Hawaii and its diplomatic representatives receive full official credit here. The last friction was removed when Minister Thurston retired on the request of Mr. Gresham. 'The ex-Queen and princess, therefore, could not be treated other than as private citizens. When Princess Kaiulani visited here three years ago she was cordially received by Mr. Cleve-land, but not officially recognized or received by the President or other officials. It is understood that the Queen's resources have been such of late that the addition of a pension, as one of the features of an annexation treaty, might not be unaccept-able. She has not lived at the palace since her deposition, but has occupied the old Dominis homestead in a quiet and economical style. The crown lands, which were her main source of wealth, were forfeited to the new government. When she was pardoned no pension was given her, so that she sustains herself on her personal means, which are not abundant. One of the features of former proposed annexation treaties has been a pension to the deposed Hale Still in the Lead, with Rice Second-Shock's Gameness.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 .- The great six-day bicyle race at Madison-square Garden continues to attract big crowds. Hale, the Irish rider, is still in the lead. Schock cught to get first prize for gameness. At 4 o'clock this afternoon he had been in the saddle continuously for thirty-two hours, and altogether he has rested less than four and a half hours. It is scarcely to be doubted that had the champion's stomach not gone wrong he would have been Hale's principal rival. At one minute past 8 o'clock this evening it was announced that Hale had made 1,6001/2 miles. Prolonged cheers greeted the announcement and a large basket of flowers was handed to the Irishman, which he carried around for a few laps. The former record for six days, made by Schock, was only 1,600 miles. All the riders spurted for several minutes after this amid vociferous cheering from the audience. At 8:35 Moore and McLeod had a collision as they were turning the curve at the eastern end of the track. Both were thrown off and Moore appeared to be hurt by the fall, but in a little while he was able to mount his wheel again. At 8:50 Ashinger and Maddox started a lively spurt. In five minutes Hale, with a sponge in his mouth, was making lap for lap with them. Rice, too, followed suit, and the crowd gave expression to its delight in cheer after cheer. At 8:52 Forster stopped for a rest. He appeared very much exhausted.

The event of the early evening was the half-mile invitation race for professionals. Those who entered in the final heat were Con Baker, of Columbus; Albert Weinig, of Buffalo; Jay Eaton, of Elizabeth, and G. Carpenter, of Rahway. The result showed Con Baker a winner handily in 1:08. At midnight the score stood: Hale, 1,646 miles: Rice, 1,611 miles, 3 laps: Forster, 1,594 miles, 7 laps; Reading, 1,572 mile, 7 laps; Shock, 1,554 miles, 7 laps; Taylor, 1,514 miles, 4 laps; Smith, 1,514 miles, 8 laps; Moore, 1,500 miles; Pierce, 1,487 miles, 6 laps; Ashinger, 1,543 miles, 7 laps; Maddox, 1,438 miles, 5 laps; Cassiday, 1,376 miles, 6 laps; Gannon, 1,198 miles, 3 laps; Glick, 1.040 miles, 4 laps; McLeon, 1,142 miles

An Island in Dispute.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.-George B. Greig, "King of Fanning island," has arrived from the South seas to settle a vexed question which involved the title to his Herry Semails, as manager of the Win-chester football team, offers to them the following challenge: The Winchester team will play the Noblesville team on its own

William Greig. There are charges and counter charges of mismanagement and misuse of funds, the outcome of which is a suit for the appointment of a receiver for the Greig estate. Failures at Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 11.-The failures of two firms occurred here to-day. Leland, Smith & Co., a prominent firm of wholesale tobacconists, and E. M. Harley, dealer in hats and furnishings. J. G. Gould, vice president of Leland. Smith & Co., disappeared last Wednesday morning and has not been seen since, but it is not thought his absence has anything to do with the firm's difficulty. The assets of the firm are about $60,000; liabilities about $40,000. The assets and liabilities of E. M. Harley each sum up about $30,000.

Receiver for an Insurance Concern. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 11.-The Commercial Travelers' Life Association of this city, one of the oldest co-operative insuranace companies, went into the hands of receivers to-day. The order was upon the application of the attorney general's office on the ground of insolvency. The assets of the company are $60,000 and the liabilities $100,000. Jacob Amos and James E. Batchford are the receivers.

MRS. M'KINLEY AT CHICAGO. She Will Purchase Her Inaugural

Gowns in the Lake City. CHICAGO, Dec. 11-Mrs. William McKinley arrived in Chicago over the Pennsylvania road to-day. She was accompanied from Canton by Mr. and Mrs. Morse, of San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Mc-Williams, of Chicago. After telegraphing her husband of her safe arrival, she was driven to the McWilliams residence, at No. 3961 Lake avenue. Her visit here is for the purpose of securing a much needed rest after the long strain of the late presidential campaign, and no public receptions have been planned. During her stay here Mrs. McKinley will do her Christmas shopping and buy her inaugural gowns. There is a probability of President-elect McKinley coming to Chicago in about a week and accompanying his wife back to Canton, though this has not yet been fully decided

FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Cleveland Delegates Will Vote Against Compers's Re-Election. CINCINNATI O., Dec. 11.-The auditing committee of the American Federation of Labor arrived to-day, and will be ready to report when the convention meets Monday. The committee is composed of John Phillips, Brooklyn; Edward Barrett, South ing that on the morning of her departure | Norwalk, Conn., and J. T. Elliott, Baltimore. President Samuel Gompers will arrive to-morrow, also Treasurer J. B. Lennon and Samuel Woods and John Willison, delegates from Great Britain. Secretary McCraith arrived to-night. One hundred and twenty-five delegates will be present at the convention, representing 1,500,000 trade union men. The painters will be represented by President Sullivan and Secretary Elliott. After the convention Secretary Elliott will start on a Western tour of agitation.

The Cleveland delegates will use their influence toward the defeat for re-election of the president, Samuel Gompers. The bicycle workers, electrical workers, ship builders' helpers and bricklayers of that city have all so instructed their delegates. The cause given is that Mr. Gompers has so long been at the head of the federation that he is too conservative, whereas occasions often arise calling for aggressive ac-

Coal Miners May Strike. PITTSBURG, Dec. 11.-When the joint convention of railroad coal operators and miners met this morning the scale committee appointed yesterday reported that they were unable to agree. The miners' ultimatum was 74 cents a ton from Jan. 1 to March 1, and 79 cents a ten for the following ten months, while the operators offered 60 cents for the first two months and 65 cents for the rest of the year. An exciting discussion then followed and the committee was discharged. If a settlement is not effected there will be a general strike, involving six thousands miners in this district. The miners are holding a secret session to take action on the offer made by the operators.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

"The Desire of the Eyes" is one of thirteen stories by Grant Allen which gives its title to the volume containing them. The stories are various in character and sustain the writer's reputation for versatility. Most of them are genuine love stories, and all are worked out in Grant Allen's characteristically clever manner. New York:

R. F. Fenno & Co. A nice gift book for a little child "Little Men and Maids," by Elizabeth S Tucker. All the victims were dissolute women, who have made their headquarters about the oil fields. Stella Brown died soon afterwards. The others were lying at the point of death. The women were poisoned by eating corned beef which contained some foreign substance.

THREATS BY ARMENIANS ANOTHER GREAT DAY

F. HOPKINSON SMITH ORDERED TO CEASE DEFENDING TURKS.

The Author, Artist and Traveler Blames the Christian Teachings for the Armenian Outrages.

New York Journal. Mr. F. Hopkinson Smith, the author artist and engineer, who has been vigorous in the use of his tongue and pen in defending the course of the Turks in the Armenian difficulties, has recently received a very unpleasant reminder that there are some persons who object to his statements. He has been, in fact, ordered to cease giving his side of the story for publication under penalty of dire consequences. The threat was implied, still it was a threat, but Mr. Smith does not wish to consider it as such. He prefers to regard the affair as trivial, but his friends do not agree with him, and are afraid something may happen to him. One night last week a young man called on Mr. Smith at his home and began to remonstrate with him for his defense of the Turk. The visitor was very much excited, and Mr. Smith, not wishing to have an argument, showed him to the door. The following day another man called on Mr. Smith at his office. His card bore an Armenian name. He was about thirty years of age, slender, about five feet eight inches tall and had a black mustache, black hair and a swarthy complexion. His first request was for a private interview. This Mr. Smith refused to grant and requested the stranger to state his business then and there. "My business," the reply was, in excellent English. "is to tell you that the Armenians in this country have been reading your recent utterances about the condition of affairs in Turkey and Armenia."

of them have not been in either of those countries for years, and my 'recent utter-"Well, the Armenians do not like your course; in fact, they are very much pleased with the things you have said and

"Very naturally," said Mr. Smith. "Some written. "I am sorry for that. I did not wish to purt the feeling of any one, but whatever I have said or written has been the truth, and I must stick to every word of it. "Well, my friends, the Armenians in New York, don't like it, and you must stop. 'Must stop! Isn't that pretty strong? Look here, my friend, who are you, any how? Are you a member of the Armenian evolutionary committee? By this time the visitor was almost beside himself with rage, and it was with more of a snarl than anything else that he denied his connection with the committee. "They don't consult me," he said, "but they are desperate men, and they say you

"They say I must stop, do they? Well, I won't stop. I know the Sultan is a broadminded man, with a big heart, that is filled with love for his fellow-beings. I know the Armenians have goaded the Turkish people into committing the massacres with the view of arousing the sympathy of Europe. These things I know, and knowing them, I am going to defend the Sultan and must stop defending the Turkish govern-

You must not! I tell you the members of the revolutionary committee are desperate men," replied the other. While the words were threatening enough the man's manner was more so. "I will continue my course," said Mr Smith, and if anything happens to me God will be held responsible. I have your card here and that will serve as a means of dentification. This is the first time in my ife that I have been told I could not speak and with the truth, and in spite of all the Armenians in America I will continue to ell the American people the true condition of affairs in Turkey."

Then the visitor was bowed out, and Mr.

Smith carefully put his card away. Mr. Smith, when seen yesterday, said: 'I didn't regard it as a threat, because would be loath to believe that Armenians of any one else would be foolish enough to attempt to restrict free speech in this country. The young man who called on me acknowledged that he had left Constantinople when he was fourteen years of age, and of his own knowledge was absolutely ignorant of the condition of affairs there now. "Before leaving there he had been educated by the American missionaries, and in their schools had become imbued with the spirit of revolution that has cost so lives. The American missionaries claim they have made 58,000 converts in Turkey and Armenia, but their teachings have cost more than that number of per sons their lives and have filled the land with widows and orphans. My statement of this fact-for fact it is-has brought down this storm of indignation on my head. The American missionaries, most of whom are of the Congregational denomination, have talked to the Armenians of the free skies of America and told them that some day freedom would be theirs. They have harped on this subject, have planted the seeds of rebellion in the minds of children, and while receiving the protection of the Sultan for their lives and property, have been inciting his subjects to take up arms

'And the seed has fallen on rich ground In the attempt to gain that freedom of which they have heard so much, these pupils of American missionaries have foiowed one course, that of baiting the Turks into committing the massacres that have shocked and disgusted the civilized world. I don't defend these massacres; they sicken me to my very soul, but I reme provocation that caused them.

"I don't blame the Armenians for wanting their liberty. I would not blame them for fighting for it; but I do blame them for isoning the sources of streams from which whole provinces draw their water supply. I blame them for killing women and children and innocent men with dynamite. The Cubans are fighting for their freedom, but they don't use these methods. They are men, and fight as such, and as a consequence have the sympathy of the whole civilized world. "In contrast to the conduct and teachings of the American missionaries is that of the Catholics. The latter have made 62,000 converts, and not one of their missions or schools has ever turned out the kind of man who in the name of liberty would bait a Turk into butchering women and children. Such things are not taught by the Catholic missionaries, who are mostly Italian and French. They teach the love of God and country, and as a consequence are a blessing to the land that has not only sheltered, but welcomed them. "So far as any personal injury to myself s concerned, I do not fear it. I believe there are desperate Armenians in this city. in fact. I have every reason to believe that some of those concerned in the attack on the Ottoman Bank, in Constantinople, have found their way here, and I know they would not stop at anything, but I don't believe they would be foolish enough to attack me.'

They Had Traveled.

Detroit Free Press. It is curious how they knew, for they were strangers to each other, and had just made a rush from the train and secured stools side by side at the railroad lunch counter.

One of them called for a piece of mince pie and a pint bottle of beer, and the other "Pretty cold in Chicago by this time ain't it? Then he gave his order for a rum omelette, corn bread, and the pepper sauce, and the first man remarked: "Races turn out pretty well in Louisville

RABBITS UNDER HER CLOAK. South-Side Woman Arrested for

Stealing from a Grocery. For some time a McCarty-street grocer has been missing articles from his sidewalk stock, and he complained of it to Patrolman Mathey. He said if he exhibited a nice fat chicken or other tempting delicacy it was sure to be stolen. Mathey loafed about the store yesterday evening in citizens' clothing and saw Mrs. Catherine Chamberlain, of 86 Maple street, go into the store and return to examine some nice rabbits which were on the outside. He saw the woman hide two rabbits under her cloak, and as she started away he placed her under arrest. She at first denied having the rabbits under her cloak, but the patrolman called her attention to the fact that one of them was sticking out in plain view. When the woman opened her cloak the two rabbits and a pair of boots fell out. It is not known where the latter came

AN ILLINOIS FUGITIVE

Hiram Barricklaw Arrested Here, Charged with Rape.

A telegram was received by Superintendent Colbert yesterday afternoon from the sheriff of Coles county, at Mattoon, Ill., asking that Hiram Barricklaw, supposed to be in this city, be arrested and held on the charge of rape. About 2 o'clock last night Sergeant Kruger found Barricklaw at a boarding house at 110 Beville avenue. He is a young man of about twenty-three years, and has the appearance of a farmer. He was locked up at the police station and a telegram was sent to the sheriff notifying him of the arrest.

A Colored Lad's Logic. John Payton, a twelve-year-old colored boy, living at 626 North Senate avenue, was arrested last night on the charge of petty larceny. He is credited with having taken a beefsteak from a butcher shop at the corner of Capitol avenue and Fourteenth (old Fifth) street. At the police station last night John declared he did not take the beefsteak, and said that he had no reason to do so as he wasn't particularly fond of beefsteak anyhow, and besides he couldn't have eaten it raw and would have been whipped if he had taken it home.

No Extension of Saloon Hours. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal;

In to-day's Journal I observe Mayor Taggart wants the Nicholson law so amended as to permit saloons to remain open until midnight. If any such amendment is pro-posed in the Legislature I trust all churches, good citizenship leagues and temper-ance organizations will insist upon its defeat by a substitute requiring the saloons to close at 10 o'clock; or, what will be still better, at 9 o'clock. It is well known that there is often more carousing, and bence more crime, in saloons after 9 o'clock than during all the previous hours of the day.
